

1 Corinthians 13

Passage Reflection

This page is meant for individuals, small group Bible studies, or one-on-one interactions. Since learning more about the text's meaning in our corporate gathering, I would encourage you to meditate on the passage again so that you might respond to God in praise and obedience.

While I have not answered all of the questions below for you, I've included some of my personal meditations that may be of some benefit. May reflection on this passage be used by God to conform you into the image of Christ.

-Pastor Andrew

What do I learn about God?

The love of the Father and Son are not stated explicitly in this passage. However, as we read verses 4-7 we can't help but think of the way Christ loves us.

Is there anything for which I should repent based on this text?

It's good for my heart to go through the list in verses 4-7 and to confess and make right any ways that I have failed to love others.

How might God use this passage to make me look more like Christ?

May I demonstrate the love of God to others so that they will know that I am His child.

How does this passage affect evangelism?

When a church is committed to doing the hard work of loving one another, unbelievers around us take notice.

How can I edify the church based on what this passage says?

Work at love. It's not easy, but it's necessary.
