

1 Corinthians 7:17-40

Passage Reflection

This page is meant for individuals, small group Bible studies, or one-on-one interactions. Since learning more about the text's meaning in our corporate gathering, I would encourage you to meditate on the passage again so that you might respond to God in praise and obedience.

While I have not answered all of the questions below for you, I've included some of my personal meditations that may be of some benefit. May reflection on this passage be used by God to conform you into the image of Christ.

-Pastor Andrew

What do I learn about God?

God has called each of us to our states of marriage or singleness.

Is there anything for which I should repent based on this text?

Is there any way that I have wrongly viewed marriage, singleness, or sexual intimacy within marriage?

How might God use this passage to make me look more like Christ?

Devotion to obeying and pleasing God is important regardless of what state I'm in (marriage or singleness). In whatever situation I'm in, may I seek to obey God's commandments and be devoted to Him.

How does this passage affect evangelism?

How can I edify the church based on what this passage says?

I can guide/counsel people toward faithfulness in marriage and singleness based on what's in this passage.
