Read the passage aloud as a group for review, and then work through the following discussion questions.

1. What do you think it means to hear God speaking to you?

2. Read Amos 8:11-12. What does this passage say about hearing God’s voice?

3. What are some of the things that hinder us from hearing God’s voice? Share your personal obstacles that block God’s voice in your life.

4. Take turns reading the following passages aloud to the group: John 16:12-13; Colossians 3:16-17; Romans 1:19; Hebrews 1:1-4; 2 Peter 1:19-21. What are some of the ways that God speaks to us today?

5. Looking at the four things necessary to hear God’s voice (being active and not passive; being near the presence of God; being teachable; and being willing to obey), share how these qualities look practically in your own life. How can you, as a community group, help each other in these areas?
