Storage of Story Pictures

These materials have been compiled for use with the lessons included in A Sure Foundation: His Praiseworthy Deeds, which is designed to be usable from year to year. We recommend lamination for durability in use. You may want to set up a filing system for use of these pictures in toddler classrooms. We recommend using file folders or large envelopes, or setting up a three-ring notebook with a plastic page protector for each picture.

Use of Story Pictures

Older Toddler Story Pictures are numbered to correspond with the 13 lessons in the Older Toddler lessons, which are included in the booklet titled A Sure Foundation: His Praiseworthy Deeds. Some of these same pictures are also provided as part of the Young Toddler Story Pictures packet, but some of the numbering is different because there are only four stories in the Young Toddler lesson set. You will want to keep the two sets separate in your filing system. The footers on each of the story picture pages identify the set to which they belong. Details on the visuals for each Older Toddler Story Picture are provided below:
