

Wednesday Night “I Am” Study

Week 1 Recap | John 6

Jesus declared, “I am the Bread of Life.”

Takeaways:

1. Jesus is completely sufficient. This truth drives us to admit that we are insufficient. We can't, but Jesus can.
2. Jesus completely satisfies. Everyone and everything else will always leave us empty. Jesus is the bread that never spoils!
3. Jesus completely supplies. We don't work for the bread of life, we simply surrender and believe. Every world religion offers bread that you work for. Christianity alone offers bread on the basis of someone else's work.

Questions for Further Reflection:

1. Where in your life recently have you been forced to say, “I can't fix it; I don't have what it takes”? Why is this actually a good position to be in?
2. Do you feel like you are experiencing the fullness of life that Jesus offers right now? Where do you feel empty?
3. How does the truth learned in this passage motivate you to live differently? Who in your life needs to be reminded of the only place to find the Bread of Life?
