fellowship denver kids

week ONE

kindness challenge:
give your time

let someone else pick the game to play * help make dinner * do your sibling's chores * put someone else's dish in the dishwasher * call a grandparent or loved one * let someone go ahead of you in line * pick up trash at a park * clean your room without being asked

final challenge

kindness challenge:
give yourself

The last week (Nov 3) you will answer the question "How can I give myself first to the Lord and then to others?" Bring your special commitment card to church and talk with your family about how to respond.

week TWO

kindness challenge:
give your words

write a thank you note to your teacher * tell someone why you love them * use only kind words when talking about others * surprise 3 people with a compliment * say thank you to a police officer or mail carrier * write a letter to someone far away and share a special memory

week THREE

kindness challenge:
give your heart

write a list of things you are grateful for * smile at 5 people * play with someone new at recess * see how many times you can hold the door open for someone else * pray for your friends * leave a kind note in a library book

week FOUR

kindness challenge:
give a gift

bring two snacks to school and share one * donate your allowance to an important cause * give away 3 toys * bake cookies for a neighbor * draw a picture for someone special * buy flowers for a teacher * make something for a grandparent

how to use this map

We are SO excited to take this journey of discipleship with you and your kids. We believe that God will work both IN and THROUGH the kids of Fellowship Denver and this season will be a spiritually significant moment for all of us.

We are encouraging your family to commit intentional time together exploring what it means to be generous. Each week, our “map” will lead to a Kindness Challenge for your family to do together. For every challenge your child completes, they will get a sticker for their passport (preschool-elementary) or a kindness coin to use in class (toddler).

On November 3, we will celebrate with our classes by asking each child to share their generosity commitment and what they’ve learned. We will also have special prizes for students and classes who fill their passports with stickers (like silly-stringing a teacher!).

We’d love to see pictures and hear stories of your family being generous! Send them to angi@fellowshipdenver.org and we will share them with our church family!
