

To My Church Family,

Today, we celebrate Bob. The love of my life, my best friend, husband and father to our wonderful children. We all know how he cherished being a Papa too. He was our “rock”. The one who always knew what to say, what to do, and whose faith never wavered.

Bob’s sermons were packed with God’s promises and we all have a deeper faith and closer relationship with God because of them. Let’s continue to live the life that Bob challenged us to live. Let’s continue to care for one another and others around the world. Can you just hear him saying, “To Carson City and beyond”?

One of our neighbors from California wrote me the following based on the poem, When Great Trees Fall, by Maya Angelou. It is a beautiful way to describe Bob.

...we will remember Bob as an amazing, strong tree that protected and sheltered his girls and the family that he loved. He was a pillar of strength with a colorful soul, incredibly sturdy, yet excruciatingly humble, and could sway and listen while the wind rustled through his branches. But what we remember most about Bob was his rooted wisdom, which was accompanied by his peaceful graciousness. We truly were blessed to have known this great man, this magnificent tree.

Thank you all for the love and support you gave to Bob and our family these past four years. Bob always said it was a blessing and an honor to serve you. Thanks for laughing at his jokes, giving him a hard time when he deserved it and most of all, loving him.

“I belong – body and soul, in life and in death – not to myself but to my faithful Savior Jesus Christ.” Heidelberg Catechism

Welcome and Prayer

Pastor Lisa Steele Johnson

Psalm 23 (in unison)

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.
