Read:

For it was fitting that he, for whom and by whom all things exist, in bringing many sons to glory, should make the founder of their salvation perfect through suffering. For he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified all have one source. That is why he is not ashamed to call them brothers, saying,

*“I will tell of your name to my brothers;
in the midst of the congregation I will sing your praise.”*

And again,

“I will put my trust in him.”

And again,

“Behold, I and the children God has given me.”

Since therefore the children share in flesh and blood, he himself likewise partook of the same things, that through death he might destroy the one who has the power of death, that is, the devil, and deliver all those who through fear of death were subject to lifelong slavery. For surely it is not angels that he helps, but he helps the offspring of Abraham. Therefore he had to be made like his brothers in every respect, so that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. For because he himself has suffered when tempted, he is able to help those who are being tempted.

(Psalm 23)

- 1. Take a moment to consider how God has closed the gap between Himself and us. How does this passage describe that and do you believe that? Is that how you interact with God or do you often feel like He is distant?
  - 2. According to this passage, how does Jesus feel about you? Does that line up with how you think God feels about you? Why or why not?
  - 3. Through Jesus' suffering and humility, God has saved His children from death. As you follow Jesus, how do you need to follow Jesus' example today?
