

Delighting In The Trinity

Chapter 4: The Christian Life-the Spirit beautifies

- Why is it necessary that the Spirit brings life? (Consider our inherited condition)
  - How does the Spirit bring ‘new life’?
- (From the chapter) Why does the Spirit give Himself?
  - Consider the catholic/Calvin debate
  - Do you find yourself trying to ‘get grace’ in order to ‘gain holiness’?
- Considering the Spirit’s work in us (transformation/sanctifying) how then should we pray?
  - Do you find yourself longing to ‘know God’ more?
    - If so, what can you do to put yourself in a position to do that? How can we be praying/encouraging this as a church body?
- What are some of the highlighted Trinity roles/work found in the excerpt “communion with God”
  - What are some of the benefits of the ‘oneness of God’ and discuss the Holy Spirit’s work in us that we may benefit
  - How does an understanding of the Trinity fuel missions?

Scripture memory: Romans 5:1-5

Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through Him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in hope of the glory of God. Not only that, but we rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us to shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.
