

God often meets us
where we least expect to find Him.

“Heaven and earth intersect over Jesus’s dead and resurrected body.”

–Tim Keller

We are always in God's presence,
though we are often
not aware of it.

“God is not contained; he contains... He surrounds the finite creation and contains it. There is no place beyond Him for anything to be. God is our environment as the sea is to the fish and the air to the bird.”

—A.W. Tozer

God meets you where you are—He turns
your stone pillow into an altar of remembrance.

“One of the great themes of Scripture is how God meets us where we are: in our insecurities, in our conditional obedience, in our mixture of faith and doubt, in our fusion of awe and self-interest, in our understanding and foolishness. God does not disclose himself only to the greatest and most stalwart, but to us, at our Bethel, the house of God.”

—D. A. Carson