Doctrinal Statement of Faith
Church of the Lutheran Brethren

- A. The Bible, including both Old and New Testaments as originally given, is the verbally and plenerly inspired Word of God and is free from error in the whole and in the part, and is therefore the final authoritative guide for faith and conduct.
- B. There is one God eternally existent in three distinct persons in one divine essence, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
- C. God the Father has revealed Himself as the Creator and preserver of the universe, to Whom the entire creation and all creatures are subject.
- D. God created Adam and Eve in His image to live in fellowship with Him. They fell into sin through the temptation of Satan and thereby lost fellowship with God. Through their disobedience the entire human race became totally depraved, that is, self-centered sinners who oppose God, and who by nature are unable to trust, fear or love Him. They are subject to the devil, and are condemned to death under the eternal wrath of God.
- E. Jesus Christ, the Eternal Son, is the image of the invisible God. To accomplish our redemption, He became fully human, being conceived of the Holy Spirit and born of the virgin Mary. Jesus Christ, who is true God and true man, by His perfect obedience and substitutionary death on the cross, has purchased our redemption. He arose from the dead for our justification in the body in which He was crucified. He ascended into heaven, where He is now seated at the right hand of God, the Father, as our interceding High Priest. He will come a second time personally, bodily, and visibly to gather the believers unto Himself and to establish His millennial kingdom. He will judge the living and the dead and make an eternal separation between believers and unbelievers. His kingdom shall have no end.

- F. The Holy Spirit is a divine person eternally one with the Father and with the Son. Through the Word of God He convicts people of sin, persuades them to confess their sinfulness to God and calls them to faith through the Gospel. He regenerates, sanctifies, and preserves believers in the one true faith. He comforts, guides, equips, directs, and empowers the church to fulfill the great commission.
- G. The knowledge and benefit of Christ's redemption from sin are brought to the human race through the means of grace, namely the Word and the sacraments.
1. Through the Word of the Law God brings sinners to know their lost condition and to repent. Through the Word of the Gospel He brings sinners to believe in Jesus Christ, to be justified, to enter the process of sanctification, and to have eternal life. This occurs as the Holy Spirit awakens them to see their sin, convicts them of their guilt of sin, and calls them to repent and believe, inviting and enabling them to accept God's grace in Christ. Each one who thus believes is instantly forgiven and credited with Christ's righteousness. The Word then teaches and guides the believer to lead a godly life.
  2. In the Sacrament of Baptism, God offers the benefits of Christ's redemption to all people and graciously bestows the washing of regeneration of newness of life to all who believe. God calls the baptized person to live in daily repentance, that is, in sorrow for sin, in turning from sin, and in personal faith in the forgiveness of sin obtained by Christ. By grace we are daily given the power to overcome sinful desires and live a new life in Christ. Those who do not continue to live in God's grace need to be brought again to repentance and faith through the Law and Gospel.
- Because the sinfulness of human nature passes on from generation to generation and the promise of God's grace includes little children, we baptize infants, who become members of Christ's believing church through baptism. These children need to come to know that they are sinners with a sinful nature that opposes God. Through the work of the Holy Spirit, they need to confess their sinfulness and yield to God; and possess for themselves forgiveness of their sin through Jesus Christ, as they are led from the faith received in infant baptism into a clear conscious personal faith in Christ as their Lord and Savior and being assured of salvation, rely solely on the finished work of Christ, and the power of the Gospel to live as children of God.
3. In the Sacrament of Holy Communion, Christ gives to the communicants His body and blood in, with, and under the bread and wine. He declares the forgiveness of sin to all believers, and strengthens their faith.
- H. Eternal salvation is available to every living human being on earth by God's grace alone through faith alone in Christ alone. This salvation consists of an instantaneous aspect and an ongoing, continual aspect.

1. Justification is God's gracious act by which He, for Christ's sake, instantaneously acquits repentant and believing sinners and credits them with Christ's righteousness. At that moment, God gives each one who believes a new and godly nature and the Holy Spirit begins the process of sanctification. There is no place for human effort in justification.
  2. Sanctification is God's gracious, continual work of spiritual renewal and growth in the life of every justified person. Through the means of grace, the Holy Spirit works to reproduce the character of Christ within the lives of all believers, instructing and urging them to live out their new nature. The Holy Spirit enables believers more and more to resist the devil, to overcome the world, and to count themselves dead to sin but alive to God in Christ Jesus. The Holy Spirit produces spiritual fruit in and bestows spiritual gifts upon all believers. He calls, empowers and equips them to serve God in the home, in the community, and as part of the Church Universal. The process of sanctification will be complete only when the believer reaches glory.
- I. The Church Universal consists of all those who truly believe on Jesus Christ as Savior. The local congregation is an assembly of believers in a certain locality among whom the Gospel is purely taught and the sacraments are rightly administered. The confessing membership of the local congregation shall include only those who have been baptized into "the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit," confess personal faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, maintain a good reputation in the community and accept the constitution of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren. It cannot, however, be avoided that hypocrites might be mixed in the congregation; that is, those whose unbelief is not evident to the congregation.
  - J. The Church of the Lutheran Brethren practices the congregational form of church government and the autonomy of the local congregations. The office of pastor and elder is to be filled by men only. The synodical administration has an advisory function as it relates to the congregation and an administrative function as it relates to the cooperative efforts of the congregations.
  - K. The Lutheran confessions are a summary of Bible doctrines. We adhere to the following confessional writings: The Apostles' Creed, Nicene and Athanasian Creeds, unaltered Augsburg Confession, and Luther's Small Catechism.

Article III

Synodical Management

- A. Membership: The Church of the Lutheran Brethren of America shall be composed of Lutheran congregations and individual Christians who accept this constitution. Their admission takes place at the Biennial Convention when a request or petition has previously been filed with the Synodical Secretary. A local congregation may withdraw from the Synod at any time, provided such decision to withdraw is done in accordance with its own constitution and by-laws.

- B. Synodical Regions: Initially five geographical Regions shall function within the Synod: four in the United States, roughly equal in number of congregations, and a fifth Region which is the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of Canada. The Regions shall have oversight, leadership, direction, support and coordination of the cooperative functions and activities of the congregations within the Regions. They shall meet biennially in Regional Conventions, during the off-year of the Synodical Biennial Convention.
1. The Regions within the United States shall recommend new congregations to the Biennial Convention of the Synod for membership.
  2. Congregations of the Canadian Region are members of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of America (CLBA) by virtue of their membership in the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of Canada (CLBC). Therefore, subject to the approval of a new congregation's constitution by the Theological Council which includes Church of the Lutheran Brethren of Canada representation (set forth in Article III. E. 2 which defines the Theological Council), the Canadian Region may accept a new congregation into membership.
  3. The Council of Directors, as hereinafter defined in Article III. E. 1. shall periodically review the size and the number of the Regions and be empowered to change the size and geographic boundaries of the Regions. Notwithstanding Article V Amendments of this Constitution, any changes adopted by the Council of Directors under this paragraph shall be automatically incorporated as changes to this Constitution without a vote of the Biennial Convention. The Regions' constitutions shall be consistent with the Constitution of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of America. Changes in the Regions' constitutions shall be subject to ratification by the Council of Directors.
- C. Biennial Convention: A meeting of duly accredited delegates shall be held in the month of May, June, July, or August every other year. Only the following shall be recognized as eligible to cast one vote each at the Biennial Convention: delegates representing individual congregations, rostered Ministers of the Gospel, all voting members of the Council of Directors and members of the Board of Lutheran Brethren Seminary. Each delegate must be at least twenty-one (21) years of age. Each congregation shall seek to send a delegation of no less than 50% men.

“Robert’s Rules of Order” shall be the basis for parliamentary procedure in all the deliberations of the Biennial Convention. A parliamentarian shall be selected at each convention who will advise the President with respect to parliamentary procedure.

Visiting Christians may be given the right to speak by a majority vote upon recommendation of the Committee on Credentials.

Reports shall be submitted to the Biennial Convention through the Council of Directors. Such reports shall be published well in advance of the Biennial Convention.

1. The following committees, the size of which shall be determined from year to year, will receive biennial reports. These committees may present feedback on approved mission plans. They may also request that potential items be considered by the Council of Directors at their regularly scheduled meetings.
  - a. The Committee on Finance.
  - b. The Committee on Communication.
  - c. The Committee on International Mission.
  - d. The Committee on North American Regional Mission.
  - e. The Committee on Theological Issues and Preparation for Mission.

2. Other committees that shall function during the Biennial Convention shall be as follows:
  - a. A Committee on Credentials consisting of two delegates shall be appointed by the Synodical President.
  - b. A Committee on Resolutions consisting of two delegates shall be elected by the convention.

D. Election of Officers.

The Biennial Convention shall elect the Synodical President, Synodical Secretary and the Regional members (as defined in Article III. E. 1. b.) of the Council of Directors for a term of four years each on a rotating basis. The delegates, as defined above, will debate and vote on proposed constitutional changes, on appropriate proposals relating to the interpretation, amendment and/or changes to the Church of the Lutheran Brethren Statement of Faith and on Position Papers that are brought forth from the Theological Council. Upon recommendation from the Regions in the United States, it will accept new congregations to the Synod. It will officially welcome new congregations to the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of Canada.

E. The following governing bodies shall function within the Synod.

1. The Council of Directors shall be composed of voting members and non-voting members as determined by sub-paragraphs a and c below. It is the denominational governing authority accountable to the Synodical Biennial Convention.
  - a. The voting members of the Council of Directors will be the Synodical President, two laypersons (at least one ordained) and one pastor from each of the Regions. These members are nominated by their Region and elected by the Church of the Lutheran Brethren Biennial Convention for a four year term. If any voting member of the COD is unable to complete his/her term (the "Retiring Member"), the Executive Committee of the region which the Retiring Member represents, shall appoint a qualified person to replace the Retiring Member. The replacement member shall serve on the COD until the next CLB biennial convention.
  - b. Elected members, with the exception of the President, are limited to serving 12 consecutive years. A member who has served for 12 consecutive years may be reelected after an absence of a minimum of one year.

- c. Non-voting members of the Council of Directors will be the Regional Pastors, Departmental Directors, the President of Lutheran Brethren Seminary, the Director of Operations, and the Director of Women’s Ministries.
  - d. A Finance Committee of the Council of Directors shall be composed of at least five of the elected members of the Council of Directors appointed from its own membership. They shall function as the trustees for state law purposes and be the body invested with the fiduciary responsibilities of the Council of Directors. The Director of Finance and Personnel shall be an ex-officio member of this committee.
2. The Theological Council shall be composed of the Regional Pastors, the Director of International Mission, two of the ordained layperson members of the Council of Directors selected annually by the Council of Directors, the President of the Lutheran Brethren Seminary, one member of the Seminary faculty (selected annually by the Seminary faculty), and the Synodical President. The Synodical President shall chair the Theological Council. It will meet at the call of the Synodical President and/or Council of Directors.
  3. The Board of Lutheran Brethren Seminary shall be composed of nine members, three of whom shall be members of the Theological Council not on the Seminary staff and one of whom shall be a representative of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of Canada. The initial members of the Board shall be appointed by the Council of Directors. Subsequent members will be selected by the Board of Lutheran Brethren Seminary from a slate of nominees provided by the Council of Directors for four-year terms and can serve a maximum of three consecutive terms.
    - a. The Executive Committee of the Board of Lutheran Brethren Seminary shall be composed of the Chair, Vice-Chair and Secretary of the Board.
    - b. The Seminary Administrative Committee shall be composed of the President, the Academic Dean and the Chief Financial Officer of the Seminary.
  4. In addition, the following administrative bodies are established:
    - a. The Synodical Mission Team shall be composed of the Synodical President, the Director of Operations, the President of Lutheran Brethren Seminary, the Director of Finance and Personnel, the Director of International Missions, the Director of Communications and Prayer and a Regional Pastor selected by the Synodical President.
    - b. The Office of President shall be composed of the Synodical President, Director of Operations, and other assistants to the President as may be hired.
    - c. The President’s Advisory Council for Congregational Ministries shall be composed of the Synodical President and the Regional Pastors.
    - d. Such committees as may be deemed necessary by the Synodical President and/or the Council of Directors as standing committees, or on an ad hoc basis.

F. Relation Of Local Congregation To The Synod.

With respect to governance of the Synod, we practice the congregational form of church government and the autonomy of the local congregation. The Synod has an advisory function rather than a ruling function. Its power to rule extends to the cooperative efforts of the congregations of the Synod. In the case of discipline problems in the local congregation, the Council of Directors has whatever authority is delegated to it by the local congregation. It may also, upon recommendation from the Region in which the congregation is located, expel a local congregation from membership in the Synod if the congregation no longer reflects the position of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren. It may also revoke the ordination of a pastor for doctrinal, moral, or other sufficient reasons.

Article IV

Congregational Management

- A. Definition. A Lutheran congregation is an assembly of believing Christians in a certain locality, among whom the Word of God is preached in harmony with the fundamental doctrines of the Lutheran faith as expressed in the confessional writings of the Lutheran Church and the sacraments are administered in accordance with the Lord's institution. Remark: It cannot be denied that false Christians might be found in the congregation: that is, those whose true spiritual state is not manifest or provable to men. "The secret things belong unto Jehovah our God; but the things that are revealed belong unto us and to our children forever, that we may do all the words of this law." Deuteronomy 29:29.
- B. Congregational Membership. According to the Scriptures and our Lutheran confessions the Church is made up only of regenerated persons. Therefore, the local congregation shall conform to the scriptures in that its membership be made up only of those who confess Jesus Christ as Lord and whose testimony and life confirm that confession. Since it is also the will of God, according to Scripture, that the Church of Christ shall appear in the world as an externally visible organization, it becomes necessary for individual believers in every locality to unite themselves into assemblies, or congregations, in order thereby more effectually to discharge their duties, to wit: inwardly by the chastening, guiding, and sanctifying power of the congregation to effect its own preservation and growth, and outwardly by its quickening and disseminating activity to fulfill its mission as the light and salt of the world.
- C. Church Leadership. Christ is the Head of the Church. Through His Spirit He guides the Church by His Word. According to His Word, He bestows upon the Church gifts of grace necessary for the effectual performance of its various ministrations. Among these ministrations we especially emphasize the office of the pastor, the teaching and governing elders, evangelists, teachers, and deacons. (Acts 14:23; 20:17, 28; Titus 1:5; I Peter 5:1-4; I Thessalonians 5:12, 13; Ephesians 4:11; II Timothy 4:5; Acts 6:2-6; Philippians 1:1). Pastors and elders continue to serve as long as the congregation finds it practicable. Elders of our congregations who because of ill health or advanced age are unable to fulfill the functions of their office may retire, but they continue to serve the church as they have opportunity.

Article V

Amendments

- A. Except for changes adopted by the Council of Directors regarding the number and size of the Regions, this Constitution can be amended only at the Biennial Convention. Such amendments shall be proposed in writing by petition of a member congregation or by ten delegates at the previous Biennial Convention. The amendment requires a two-thirds majority vote.
- B. A proposed amendment may be formulated and signed by 10 confessing members of the LB congregations and submitted for reading at each regional convention. It will then be discussed and voted on at the next synodical biennial convention. The amendment requires a two-thirds majority vote.

    - d. It shall supervise and direct the academic phase of the educational institutions of the Synod.
    - e. It shall call teachers and workers, determine the conditions of their call, and set their salaries.
    - f. It shall direct the publicity of the Seminary and take such measures as will promote the educational facilities of the Synod.
    - g. It shall recommend the budget for the Seminary to the Council of Directors.
    - h. The Executive Committee of the Board of Lutheran Brethren Seminary is empowered to act on the Board's behalf between meetings.
    - i. It shall formulate and maintain a written long-range plan for the Seminary.
  4. The Office of the President shall carry out the programs defined by the Synodical President subject to review by the Council of Directors.
  5. The Synodical Mission Team shall meet at the call of the Synodical President. It shall work with the President to develop and have input on appropriate policies and procedures, and on a unified ministry plan and budget for presentation to the Council of Directors.
  6. The President's Advisory Council for Congregational Ministries shall advise the President and his staff on operational programs designed to serve the church in areas such as youth ministries, pastoral candidate training, in-service training, advisory services for special needs and other ministries directed toward strengthening the parish ministry.
- C. Scope of Business. The Biennial Convention, through its properly accredited delegates, shall deliberate and take action in all matters placed before it.
- D. Delegates: Each church is allowed two delegates to the Biennial Convention for the first fifty adult confessing members or fraction thereof, plus an additional delegate for each additional fifty adult confessing members or fraction thereof.

Article II

Congregational Management

- A. The Pastor. For the office of pastor, the congregation shall call a man who is recognized as a true Christian, who accepts this constitution, and who otherwise has the necessary qualifications. His ordination shall take place in the midst of the congregation(s) which he is to serve. The congregation(s) shall make arrangements to have the ordination performed by the proper officials of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren or by their own elders. A candidate for ordination must have a permanent call. The pastor shall particularly attend to the preaching of the Word and the administration of the sacraments. He shall also perform such other services within the church as are required by the Word of God.
- B. The Elder. The elders shall support the pastor, watch over the spiritual condition of the congregation, and insure that the work is done in accordance with the Word of God.
- C. Ordination and Installation. Pastors and elders shall be ordained and installed according to the ritual of the Church of the Lutheran Brethren of America.
- D. Church Council. Together, the pastors and elders shall constitute the Church Council, and to this body the congregation as a whole commits its spiritual direction.
  - 1. It examines and recommends applicants for membership, whereas actual acceptance and admission is decided by the congregation.
  - 2. It makes certain that church discipline is exercised in accordance with Matthew 18:15-18, I Corinthians 5; II Corinthians 2:5-11; and I Timothy 5:20.
  - 3. It has authority on behalf of the congregation to exclude an individual from the Lord's Supper. However, expulsion from the congregation can be brought about only by the action of the congregation itself in a lawfully assembled meeting.
  - 4. It also calls a meeting of the congregation as often as the congregation demands it or as the council finds it necessary.
  - 5. Elections and other matters of primary importance shall be considered by the Church Council before being brought to the business meeting of the congregation for discussion and final decision.
  - 6. When the Church Council needs to consider matters which pertain to the temporal affairs of the church, the Board of Deacons, the Board of Trustees and/or the Finance and Property Committee may participate in the meeting with the privilege of discussion and voting.
- E. The Deacons, Trustees and/or Finance and Property Committee shall have charge of the material interests of the congregation and submit annual reports.

- F. Classification of Members: Members of the congregation are classified as follows:
1. Confessing members. Confessing members shall have been baptized into “the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit,” confess personal faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, maintain a good reputation in the community and accept this constitution.
    - a. All requests for confessing membership are made to the Board of Elders which recommends candidates to the congregation.
    - b. Baptized children of the congregation who have become confessing Christians may request confessing membership when they reach confirmation age.
    - c. Only confessing members of the congregation who have reached the voting age determined by the local congregation may vote at congregational business meetings. They shall not have membership in any secret society or other organization which in its official statements or rites assert that individuals are reconciled to God outside of Jesus Christ and his atonement.
  2. Baptized children of the congregation. Children baptized in the congregation and all baptized children of confessing members shall be designated baptized children of the congregation. This status continues until they reach the voting age determined by the congregation, or are accepted as confessing members of the congregation, whichever occurs first. Those not requesting adult membership shall become parishioners.

The congregation shall diligently guide these children and youth by teaching the Word of God and modeling godly attitudes and behavior. Every congregation shall arrange for Sunday Schools, Bible Schools, youth ministries, pastoral instruction, confirmation and other Christian training programs. These young people shall be made the objects of prayer as the congregation seeks to guide them to conscious faith, spiritual growth and confessing membership in the church.

- G. Parishioners. Baptized children of the congregation become parishioners upon reaching voting age if they have not been received as confessing members. In addition, the Board of Elders may include as parishioners those who wish to call this their church home. The Board of Elders may also remove the names of parishioners when they deem it necessary or advisable.
