A Little Servant Girl and the Proud General

Here is the video link to our story this week.

Craft – Naaman Takes a Dip in the River

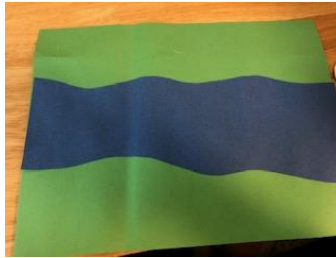

This week we will be making a craft where we will have Naaman take a dip in a river. We can remember that just like Naaman, we just have to listen to God's instruction and accept His saving work.

For today's craft you will need scissors, a paper plate or two, a piece of blue paper, a piece of green paper, glue, and something to color with.

1. You will need to get a little creative today and draw to figures for your little one to cut out of the paper plate. I used two small plates, but you could probably get two people drawn onto the back of a large paper plate.

2. Cut your people out and decorate one as a sick Naaman and one as a healed Naaman.
3. Cut your blue paper into a long river and glue that onto your green paper.

4. Fold your paper and cut a thin slit out of the center of your river.

5. You can pop your sick Naaman into the river, and then send the healed Naaman up out of the river. (He might somehow change outfits in there as well.)
