

No Better Time Than Now
To Sing God's Praises

A Psalm of Praise

Psalm 96

- The Bible is full of references of SINGING to the Lord.
- God brings His greatest REVELATIONS during times of suffering.
- God has an EXPECTATION for worship.

A Psalm of Evangelism

Psalm 96

- Looking deeper in the Psalm we see the theme of WORLD evangelism.
- It is our RESPONSIBILITY and duty to witness to our neighbors.
- The Gospel is LIFE-CHANGING

PERSONAL STUDY HOMEWORK

Week of July 14-20

Getting Started

- 1. Think about the greatness of God. What hymns come to mind that prompt you with the melody, the lyrics and reasons to praise Him for the great things He has done?

Getting Into God's Word

Read Psalm 96

- 1. What does it mean to "ascribe" to God attributes of glory and strength? What happens when we fail to ascribe such qualities to Him? In what sense is praise to God "fitting" or "worthy"?
- 2. From Psalm 96, what multiple things does the Psalmist suggest the Israelites include in their worship? How can we worship God with our whole selves?

Applying It In My Life

- 1. Let the joy of knowing God bubble up within you and burst forth in a "new song" of worship. This psalm invites us to sing a "new song" declaring His glory to others (in witness) and ascribing glory directly to God (in worship). How could someone who is not musically inclined be creative in this kind of witness and worship?
