New Wineskins Missionary Network is the mission mobilizing network serving the worldwide Anglican Communion as a service partner of the Anglican Church of North America.

We coordinate the Anglican Global Mission Partners, which is a network of 40+ different missional entities with one solidary purpose to make Jesus known in various contexts and realities.

The Diocese of South Carolina is a founding member of the AGMP.

At the request of the ACNA Province, we lead the Global Mission Initiative, which seeks to help each diocese foster missional ministry locally and globally.

Our mandate is to mobilize Anglicans for cross-cultural ministry. Among our many tasks, we host a triennial conference that has had mission ripples across the world for the last 30 years.

Recently, we launched six mission networks that seek to contextualize gospel expansion in various ways from creation care to human trafficking. Individuals can connect in the area of mission passion with others around the world.

Strategies for Sharing the Gospel in this Ministry:

Church Planting; Church Strengthening; Community Development; Discipleship; Evangelism; Humanitarian Aid; Leadership Development; and Medical.

New Wineskins Missionary Network equips and nurtures ministries that will help “finish the task” of the Great Commission. Our greatest ministry tool is the triennial New Wineskins Global Mission Conference.

This past fall over 1600 in-person registrants and an additional 500+ online registrants gathered for the conference. The NW Conference equips the church to pray, to give, and to go as the Holy Spirit leads.

Other regular ministry is leading a vast network of mission-minded Anglicans to collaborate and spur one another on to make Jesus known to everyone everywhere. You can see all of our networks and partners at
